WARNING OVER MOPED GANGS

Police urge vigilance after spate of thefts involving bike-riding crooks

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

POLICE have warned residents to guard against having their mobile phones stolen by moped-riding "snatch" gangs.

A spate of street robberies has been carried out in the Crouch End area in recent weeks with pedestrians using their phones having them stolen after the driver of a scooter mounts the pavement and the pillion passenger grabs the handset.

Most of the victims have been women and many thefts have been carried out in broad daylight, with at least one victim being threatened with a knife.

Residents raised concerns at a public meeting after several complained on social media about lack of police action – and an online petition was started calling for more to be done to catch the thieves and prevent further robberies.

In response, police said that detectives and uniformed officers were working hard to reduce the number of incidents and detect and catch those responsible.

Inspector Max Cox said: "In recent weeks there has been an increase in mobile phones being stolen by means of suspects on scooters riding up behind victims and snatching them from their hands. This has been occurring across Haringey and, most significantly, around the west of the borough.

"Haringey police are working hard to reduce the number of incidents, but the best way of reducing crime is through simple preventative measures."

Police also stress the important role the members of the public have in providing information should they witness a robbery or are offered a mobile in suspicious circumstances, and they warn them not to risk their safety by chasing after muggers.

They offer this advice:

■ Be discreet when using your phone in public. If you use your phone, make it quick to minimise the chance of becoming distracted and being spotted by a thief.

■ Stay alert, do not text while you are walking because you will be less aware of your surroundings.

■ Be mindful of who is behind you. Try to stand with your back against a wall when using your phone so that nobody can approach with your back turned.

College makes it two in a row

FOR the second successive year, a Haringey college has been ranked London's top performer for the number of students gaining qualifications.

The college of Haringey, Enfield and North East London, which has a campus at Tottenham Green, achieved an 89.2 per cent success rate, according to the latest figures released last week by the government Skills Funding Agency.

In another survey, the college has been rated as London's number one for student satisfaction.

Students' union president Melina Zachariou said: "It's easy to see why the college came first. You can see that the students are happy and comfortable.

"The tutors are really approachable, there are a number of services for anyone that needs additional support and the college takes safety and well-being very seriously."

Assault appeal

POLICE searching for the whereabouts of a suspect wanted in connection with a violent attack have released a photograph and name of a man they want to question.

Detectives are keen to speak to Nigel Mahon, pictured, over a serious assault which took place in Lymington Avenue, Wood Green on Sunday, April 12.

They want to hear from anyone who may know of his whereabouts. Anyone with any information is asked to call police in Haringey on 101 or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Young Galacticos set their sights on victory

EMULATING the Galacticos of Spanish football giants Real Madrid, a team of young deaf footballers from Tottenham have reached the finals of a national competition.

Real Madrid Elite, an under-16 five-a-side team, who have taken the name of the world famous club, have won the south east regional finals of the National Deaf Youth Football Tournament run by the National Deaf Children's Society.

The youngsters, who range from profoundly deaf to partially deaf, beat St John's Deaf Football Club 2-1 in the regional final to qualify for the national stages of the tournament, which will be held at St George's Park National Football Centre, in Burton-upon-Trent, Staffordshire, where the England squad prepare for international matches.

Commenting on the success of the Tottenham-based team, Tyron Woolfe, deputy director, children and young people for the National Deaf Children's Society, said: "It is great to see Real Madrid Elite qualify for the finals, which are set to be a great day out and I hope they inspire other deaf young people to get involved."

Steve Down, the team's manager said: "I am extremely proud of the team and delighted with the level of commitment the players have shown throughout the year.

"They have grown from strength to strength as the tournament has progressed and I have every confidence that we'll do our very best at St George's Park."

Council's opt-out 'has left historic church out in cold'

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

PARISHIONERS of an historic church in the borough have blasted the council, accusing it of leaving Enfield "closed for business".

Henry Lamprecht, a parishioner at Christ Church, in The Green in Southgate, says he is aghast that this year Enfield Council will not be taking part in the nationwide Open House festival of architecture and design in September, during which members of the public are guided around public buildings and buildings of historical significance which usually they might just walk past.

The council would have to pay £4,000 to join up to the scheme this year at a time when the authority is tasked with saving £80million over the next four years.

In previous years when the council has taken part, buildings such as Salisbury House, in Bury Street West, Edmonton, were opened up for the public to take tours around.

"We should all be very concerned about Enfield's finances if a council with such a large budget cannot spend £4,000 in attracting tourists into the area," said Mr Lamprecht. "It is sending a message to the rest of the capital that Enfield is closed for business.

"We are one of the few places in the borough to have the get-up-and-go to do it, but if the borough is not taking the lead on doing this how are we going to attract people to Enfield? We are not on the map. With this decision they have effectively wiped us off the map."

Although the council is being forced to make millions of pounds in savings after the local government grant was once again cut by central government, Mr Lamprecht dismisses this as justification for opting out of the scheme this year.

"That is just rubbish," he said. "Look at the money they spend on the Residents Priority Fund. If they reduced the fund by £200 in each ward, they could easily afford to take part in the scheme. I just don't buy it."

"The Open House days benefit the entire community – not just one ward or group within that ward. If they want people from all over the capital to come to Enfield, then they have to make it a destination for people rather than counting us out of the race."

The Advertiser contacted the council for comment, but at time of press no response had been given.

Open invitation: Sue Coates, of Winchmore Hill and Enfield Hockey Club, is launching free back-to-hockey sessions

Give it some stick

ANYONE who fondly remembers the satisfying thwack of a hockey ball smacking into the backboard of a goal but who has not picked up a hockey stick in years can now relive the best parts of their sporting youth.

As part of the This Girl Can – Sport England campaign, which celebrates women's sport, Winchmore Hill and Enfield Hockey Club is offering a free Back to Hockey course to anyone interested in returning to the field.

The sessions will be run on Saturday afternoons at Aylward Academy, in Windmill Road, Edmonton, every Saturday from May 11 to June 15 from 2pm to 4pm.

Sue Coates, the chairwoman of the club, told the Advertiser that the sessions were open to everyone, regardless of age or ability.

"We realise that a lot of women will have stopped playing hockey when they left school and we want to let people know that it is always possible to get back into the sport – regardless of whether they want to play competitively or just have a knock-around with friends," she said.

"This is a chance to do something fun in the fresh air and a great way of meeting lots of new people."

The sessions will focus on coaching skills to help people get to grips with the game again and Sue says that the club will be able to provide sticks.

However, shin guards are the one thing she will insist on, with mouth guards advisable once players progress into taking part in games.

Anyone interesting in getting back to the game can just turn up at the session on May 11 – no booking is required and all sessions in the six-week course are free.

Bags of responsibility for Len, Rick and co...

By Julia Gregory

WHEN the 36,000 exhausted and elated runners reach the finish line of the London Marathon on Sunday, they will be keen to collect their bags packed with a change of clothes before heading off to celebrate.

Members of two Enfield running clubs are volunteering behind the scenes at the finish at The Mall to reunite athletes with the luggage bags they last saw when they handed them in at the start – 26.2 miles away in Greenwich.

Each bag is labelled with the runner's race number to ensure the correct kit is returned to the right person.

The bags are loaded on to lorries and driven under police guard to The Mall, where they are unloaded and sorted by teams of volunteer baggage handlers.

A team of 14 runners from Trent Park Running Club will be on hand to help unload one of the lorries and get the bags ready for the competitors – a task they have done for the past 16 years.

Len Edmonds, the club's baggage team leader, said there were about 900 bags on each lorry.

He divides the load into three areas with teams of four or five unloading each section and sorting them into the correct number order to ensure the smooth hand-over of bags to weary runners.

Mr Edmonds, who has run three London Marathons himself, said: "We have to be there about 9am and the lorries arrive at 11 o'clock. For about an hour it's bedlam. We just enjoy it. I have no difficulty in getting volunteers."

It's an early start as well for the volunteers from Edmonton Running Club. A team of 28 will be unloading two lorries on Sunday. They will be on a 7am coach which takes the club's competitors to Greenwich before dropping them off near The Mall about 8am.

Rick Oliver, the club's baggage coordinator, said many of the team had run in the event themselves and want to put something back.

"It's just a case of getting involved," he said. "We enjoy doing it."

The team gets back to Enfield in the early in the evening after a long, hard day and the reward of a handful of guaranteed places in next year's event for their members.

Volunteers from Trent Park Running Club also help keep pedestrians safe.

Penny Cording will be leading the pedestrian management team at South Quay in Docklands. Her team of 38 volunteers will leave Trent Park in Snakes Lane, Oakwood, at 5.45am on Sunday and has to get into Docklands before the roads are closed to traffic along the marathon route.

Here be dragons – and lots of St George's Day fun

DRAGONS can be spotted in Enfield this weekend when two events are held to celebrate St George's Day.

Fortunately, they won't be of the fire-breathing variety, but will be youngsters dressed in dragon costumes.

Children are being invited to come dressed as the mythical creature and win a prize for the best costume at festivities being held at The Wonder pub, in Batley

Road, Enfield, on Saturday. Starting at noon, there will be entertainment and host of activities for adults and children, including live music, Morris and Irish dancing and a saxophonist, as well as a barbecue and a raffle. There will also be a bouncy castle, face painting and an egg and spoon race.

On Sunday, hundreds of Scouts and Girl Guides and their leaders will take part in the annual Enfield District Scout and Guide Parade. The procession will make its way from Enfield Grammar Upper School playground passing through Enfield Town, down Church Street, and into Silver Street before going into Enfield Grammar Lower school playground, where members of the public can join a short service and address from deputy mayor Pat Ekechi.

THE scents of soaps, lavender and cheese filled the air as the popular French market returned to Enfield Town last week.

Traders brought a touch of joie de vivre with them at the three-day market, which set up stalls at Fountain Island, in Church Street.

The traders first visited Enfield in November last year when shoppers braved the cold in the run-up to Christmas to stock up on gourmet treats and gifts.

This time the mercury soared and the weather was kinder as shoppers on Thursday, Friday and Saturday sam-

OLD soldiers, dignitaries and residents will remember the fallen heroes of the ill-fated World War I Gallipoli offensive in Palmers Green on Sunday afternoon.

Enfield councillors, members of the Royal British Legion and the Queen's representative, Deputy Lieutenant Ann Cable will attend a ceremony in the memorial garden in Broomfield Park where an almond tree will be planted.

The event, starting at 3pm, marks the 100th anniversary of the start of the nine-month Gallipoli campaign by Allied forces to seize the peninsula from Turkish troops.

500,000 wounded. The Ottoman Empire lost more than 50,000 men, while Britain lost nearly 35,000 and France close to 10,000. Australia lost almost 9,000 and New Zealand nearly 3,000.

Gallipoli is portrayed in Turkey as a mighty victory – but in Australia and New Zealand it's seen as the moment heroic Anzac (Australian and New Zealand Army Corps) soldiers were led to disaster by bungling British generals.

Council leader Doug Taylor said: "Gallipoli is a stark reminder of the horrors of war. It was not only a military failure, it was also a huge price paid by the families whose loved ones died or were injured. Remembrance is important and it is my hope that in remembering we also learn."

Lloyd's hoping to raise a smile – and charity cash

By Ruth McKee
ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A YOUNGSTER who has raised hundreds of pounds for Great Ormond Street Hospital is steeling himself for yet another epic fundraising drive.

Lloyd Spurr, 11, of Munster Gardens, Palmers Green, is preparing for a week-end of collecting donations from shoppers in Morrisons supermarket, in Aldermans Hill, Palmers Green, when he will be rewarding shoppers with a smile for every donation they make to his funds through the store's Raise a Smile campaign.

The 11-year-old, a year 7 pupil at Finchley Catholic High School, has been raising money for the hospital for sick children "for the last four or five years" since friends of his at Hazelwood Primary School, in Hazelwood Lane, Palmers Green, were treated in the hospital.

For the past two years, Lloyd has raised £500 in each of his annual fundraising drives and the hundreds of pounds have been used to buy a new bone scanner for the hospital.

According to his mum Patricia, it all started when Lloyd donated his birthday money to the cause and then decided he would like to do something more to raise as much money as possible.

While each year has been a huge success for the public-spirited youngster, this year he is hoping he can bag even more pounds and pennies for the charity with a new take on the Raise a Smile campaign in the supermarket as Lloyd and his mum have devised a "more interactive" way of raising money.

Patricia explains: "We are going to put up a huge poster with smiley face stickers on it – as well as a few rogue grumpy faces mixed in – and children can pay to guess how many smiles are on the poster – for a chance to win a raffle prize."

She added that they were very grateful to Printfields stationers, in Green Lanes, Palmers Green, which has supported their annual efforts in Morrisons ever since they dreamed up the idea when Lloyd was at primary school.

"Every year that we do this fundraising drive we have been amazed by the number of people who come up to us and tell us that they were helped by the charity 30 or 40 years ago," Patricia told the Advertiser.

"We have not set a target on how much we want to raise – but it would be great if we could just raise as much as possible."

Lloyd and his mum and dad will be in Morrisons on Friday and Saturday and anyone wishing to donate can drop their donation into their buckets.

Paranormal activity – or child's play?

Three-part television drama looks back at infamous Enfield haunting

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

AFTER four decades of silence, the strange spirit which terrorised a family in the borough is set to fly again – except this time the phantom will be strictly confined to TV screens.

The story of The Enfield Haunting – when one home in Green Street, Brimsdown, was torn apart by the presumed antics of a poltergeist in 1977 – will be brought back to life on Sky Living on Sunday, May 3.

The three-part series stars Timothy Spall as novice paranormal investigator Maurice Grosse and Matthew Macfadyen as the senior, more sceptical investigator, Guy Lyon Playfair.

Peggy Hodgson and her four children, Margaret, 12, Janet, 11, Johnny, ten, and Billy, seven, lived at number 284 and were getting ready for bed one warm August night when suddenly a strange force seemed to be unleashed in their home.

It began as a strange knocking sound in the walls – which even their builder neighbour couldn't make neither head nor tail of.

A chest of drawers in the girls' room suddenly started to move of its own accord. A terrified Peggy called the police, who were baffled.

Journalists began to troop through the house with one photographer for the Daily Mirror recalling that Lego bricks were mysteriously hurled across the room at him.

With the eyes of the world now focused on the bizarre events, the spooky goings-on ratcheted up with reports that Janet, the child who seemed to be at the centre of the poltergeist's interest, appeared to levitate from her bed.

And, strangest of all, when the investigators arrived, she began speaking in the voice of an old man named Bill Wilkins, who had lived and died in the house.

The three-part series is a dramatisation of the case as seen through the eyes of the paranormal investigators, but for those who are easily spooked by the thought of the ghost making a comeback, in the years after the haunting, Janet admitted that she and her sister and brothers had made up some of the spooky goings on.

Speaking to the Daily Mail in 2011, when asked how much of the phenomena was faked, she replied: "I'd say two per cent."

Janet also revealed in interviews in the years after the haunting that the terrifying events only calmed down once the house had been visited by a priest.

The series is scheduled to be shown on Sky Living and On Demand services.

A total silence on air pollution

WE have just experienced the latest warning of extreme air pollution – this time with older people and children being warned to avoid strenuous activity, asthma sufferers to stay indoors and even healthy people urged to change their behaviour such as to “reduce physical exertion”.

That is the effect, nothing on trying to helping mitigate the cause – try not to drive, work at home if possible, get the bus, share your car journey and other such mitigating options.

Political reaction to this cause of roughly one in eight UK deaths has been lamentable.

Would we accept poisoned food which would result in the death of one in eight of us, feed it to our children, friends, family and neighbours?

Stunted lungs in children, enhanced propensity to asthma, memory and cognitive problems, an emerging link to cancer and strokes, plus more – all this in a research field which is only in its formative years.

So expect more to come. Try and find a response to all this in the build-up to the general election vote – but don’t hold your breath, even if that would be the healthiest option.

FGM violates human rights

I WAS very pleased to see the Advertiser report (March 25) about the conference in the Dugdale Centre on female genital mutilation.

I was aware of this barbaric practice as long as 50 years ago, but I had no idea of how widespread it was. Nowadays, thanks to campaigns in the national media we know that 140 million girls and women worldwide are living with the consequences of FGM.

As your report mentioned, there are, in Enfield alone, 2,800 young women under the age of 19 at risk of this abuse.

I would like to congratulate the organisers of this conference for gaining local publicity for this issue. Ayfer Orhan has rightly called it a violation of human rights and an extreme form of discrimination against women.

These phoney campaigns aren’t fooling anyone

CHRIS Thompson is surely right when he says that it is time politicians “quit using inaccurate, dramatic, sound bites to dupe the electorate into voting” for them (“Why would Tories spend cash, then close Chase Farm?”, Opinion, April 8).

I’m now looking at the laughable claims made by David Burrowes that he alone secured the funds to rebuild Chase Farm and extend its urgent care centre.

No mention of the Royal Free Hospital and its initiative in taking over the bankrupt Barnet and Chase Farm NHS Trust.

We are asked to forget that the same Mr Burrowes stood at the Chase Farm gates alongside Mr Cameron promising at the 2010 general election to keep our A&E and maternity units.

We are asked to forget that the same Mr Burrowes refused to stand alongside his fellow Conservative candidate Nick de Bois and Enfield Council when they joined forces in a legal action seeking to retain the A&E and maternity units.

In the same piece of propaganda, I see that Mr Burrowes claims that after a

‘Laughable claims’: David Burrowes

“long and hard-fought campaign Southgate police station was saved”.

As a sop. It is now open two or three hours a week while it retains a filthy, grimy exterior that disgraces the area and we all know that come the next wave of cuts the station will be shut and sold off.

And then there are his phoney “campaigns” to save local libraries that I’ve seen no plans to close and oppose fortnightly bin collections when again I’ve seen no proposal to introduce them.

So, if it’s a case of duping the electorate, Mr Burrowes is a born leader.

Don’t ruin this oasis by dumping rubbish

SNUGGLED nicely between the A10 and Hertford Road lies a quiet little piece of countryside, Hoe Lane Open Space.

This peaceful little oasis of nature is bordered by the railway lines and the cemetery and busy roadways, but offers a nice escape for families and dog walkers or people just taking advantage of the sporadic sunny days we seem to get to sunbathe and relax in its plush green fields.

Now that we are reasonably convinced that it’s not going to collapse into its own sinkholes, it has been reopened to the community to enjoy.

I often see groups of children playing football or dog walkers chatting and it appears that the oncoming summer weather makes the area just that little bit nicer.

We are blessed with an abundance of wildlife, including the deer that everyone wants to stroke and his companion, who always seems to be looking after its mate.

We can see green woodpeckers at the back of the open space and a large variety of insects and dragonflies. If you are lucky, you may even see the elusive sparrowhawk that visits most days.

So, with all that in mind, you can see why I get so angry about those selfish individuals who think it’s OK to dump mattresses, computer monitors and various other bits of rubbish.

If it’s a nice area to have a barbecue with the family, at least take your waste away with you rather than let it blow all over the field.

I was disgusted to find an individual defecating on the grass the other day who I subsequently discovered was a neighbour.

I have even found people copulating yards from the bus stop where children were standing...get a room!

What’s the matter with you people?

Spaces like this should be cherished, not abused.

Have some thought for other people and don’t dump your rubbish in spaces that are meant for the enjoyment of all and don’t act irresponsibly in a way that could offend others.

It’s fly-tipping wherever it is WHY does Nick Dines think that fly-tipping on private land should take priority over public highways?

We live in the Monmouth Road area of Edmonton and one morning I had to climb over old furniture, bags of stinking old food, building materials and mattresses, which were blocking the pavement in Monmouth Road, which is a busy thoroughfare.

Anyone in a wheelchair, pushing a buggy or a shopping trolley or a blind person has no chance.

These tips are everywhere in Edmonton and I would like to invite Mr Dines to see for himself.

If you are a denture wearer then this article may be of some interest to you!!
If you can relate to any of the following questions then it is a sign your denture needs attention:

- DO YOU FIND YOUR DENTURES:
 - Do not fit as well on your gums as they used to?
 - Are they loose?
 - Do not cut food as well as they used to?
 - Do they make your face look older?
 - Have discoloured despite meticulous cleaning or
 - Cause discomfort/pain on chewing?

If any of the above breeds familiar territory then I may be able to alleviate some of these problems for you.

My name is Caroline Persaud I am a qualified CLINICAL DENTAL TECHNICIAN. Many of you may be aware of Dental Technicians/Mechanics who repair and produce dentures for dentists, however, due to recent changes in the Dental law, a group of Dental Care Professionals known as Clinical Dental Technicians have been approved by the General Dental Council and can now see denture wearers who have no natural teeth remaining, directly without having to visit a dentist.

The advantages to you, the patients, are numerous. You can be treated by a professional who has been clinically trained to undertake the impressions of your mouth and who also has the technical skill to manufacture your denture to meet your requirements.

A more direct, rapid and personalised service, that can be delivered to you in the comfort of your own home or at my day clinic in Edmonton.

Family operated 'boiler room' con

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN has been found guilty of playing a part in a complex criminal scam which duped victims out of more than £1million.

Faroq Eshpari, 56, of George Lovell Drive, Enfield Lock, was found guilty at Southwark Crown Court on Friday of money laundering offences.

His wife, Safia Eshpari, 53, also of George Lovell Drive, had earlier pleaded guilty to money laundering and their sons, Omar, 35, of the same address, and Hider, 29, of Sidcup in Kent, had earlier pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud.

The family's involvement related to a so-called "boiler room" scam – whereby potential investors are cold-called and persuaded to part with vast sums of cash on a promise of huge returns on their investments.

Their victims were targeted and told that rare, coloured diamonds were exclusively on offer to them. They were told they would be sure to make money.

The explanation was that the mines they were sourced from were due to close, meaning the diamonds were being sold cheaply but would soon go up in value once the market realised there were no gems like them left in the world.

If any potential investors expressed interest, they were then sent glossy brochures in a bid to reassure them that the business was entirely legitimate. In fact, the coloured gems were practically worthless and were being flogged to victims at up to 3,000 per cent more than what they were worth.

Any hope of even getting back a small amount of what was paid for the jewels was impossible.

Since the fraud began in 2011, vast profits of as much as £1.5m were funnelled into accounts held by the gang overseas and tens of thousands of pounds were spent on luxury goods in high-end department stores in central London.

Two companies, which essentially operated as one, were found to be behind the fraud – Evolution Commodities and Stonehouse Global Markets.

In the course of the trial, the jury heard that

Omar Eshpari had masterminded the scam. His brother, Hider Eshpari, had been the director of Evolution Commodities until he was arrested at the office in Devonshire Square, in the city of London, in December 2011.

He was arrested again the next month when he tried to siphon £30,000 out of the company through a banker's draft.

The brothers' parents had helped in the scam by laundering money through a company that had been set up in their name, called Dante Elias, and through their own personal bank accounts.

Also found guilty of involvement in the scam was Anna Foord, of Gravesend, Kent, who was found to be responsible for the day-to-day running of Stonehouse Global Market.

She often visited the homes of potential investors to show them the gems and took money from the victims before transferring it from her bank account to that of the brothers.

That particular company ran for 18 months and shut down in early 2013 when Omar Eshpari was jailed for his involvement in a separate land banking investment fraud.

However, Foord was in the process of setting up her own jewellery business when she was arrested by police in June 2013.

Detective constable Claire Bailey, who led the investigation for the City of London Police, said: "Boiler room fraud is a crime that destroys retirements and ruins lives.

"Victims were led to believe they were investing their savings in diamonds that could only increase in value and would provide them with regular and healthy dividends when in reality they were putting their money and trust in a carefully constructed scam designed to make the fraudsters a fortune.

"The City of London Police are very pleased this complex and extensive investigation has finally resulted in this organised crime gang facing the justice they deserve, something that I hope will provide some solace to their victims.

"We would also advise anyone who is contacted by a cold-caller trying to sell them something to simply hang up the phone and do not engage with this person on any level."

All five are due to be sentenced on May 29.

Edwin's fishing for former anglers

AN angling coach is hoping to catch the attention of former members of a youth league for a reunion 30 years on.

Edwin Williams set up the Enfield Junior League in 1985 and taught young anglers to perfect their craft at training nights on the River Lee at Wharf Road in Ponders End.

He said: "When I ran the junior league down at the River Lee at Ponders End, we had 60 kids. The oldest was 16 in 1985 and I'm hoping to find as many of them as possible. We won gold, silver and bronze awards and we came to the top every year."

Their prize-winning achievements from 1985 are recorded in a leather-bound year book at Edwin's home in James Street, Bush Hill Park.

The anglers fished roach, bream, perch and bleak from the river.

The league competed in the London Youth Games, which brought together young sports fans from the capital's 33 boroughs.

The contest was founded in 1977 to mark the Queen's Silver Jubilee and showcases a range of sports.

Enfield's anglers won the gold prize twice and they also took a second and third place.

The league ran until 1991 and Edwin became the manager for the angling contest for the London Youth Games.

"I would like all the people who were involved to get in touch with me," he said.

He thinks some of the young anglers might have moved away from the area.

The league's deputy manager, Tony Marchont, from Enfield Highway, has already traced some members by social media and the two fishermen want to find more anglers who might still be

Where are they now?: Edwin Williams used to run the Enfield Junior League for young anglers and is planning a reunion based in and around Enfield for the reunion gathering.

They would also like to hear from other deputy managers including Peter Taylor, from Enfield Highway, and Ron Henderson, who helped teach the young anglers, to invite them to join the party.

Any former league member should contact Edwin on 07976 205878.

Police warning after pensioner thwarts conmen

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

RESIDENTS are being warned to be on their guard after a pensioner was targeted by conmen.

A man claiming to be from a drainage company called at the home of an 85-year-old woman in Hyde Park Avenue, Winchmore Hill.

The man told her that he was carrying out sewage works in the area and that they might affect her home. The conman then asked for the pensioner's phone number, so that his boss could confirm his story.

Within a few minutes, the victim's phone was ringing and when she answered the man at the other end of the line told her she would have to give £2,500 in cash right away to the company so that they could stop her home from being affected by the supposed nearby drainage works.

She was told that the money was for a pressure pump that needed to be installed urgently or sewage would overflow in her garden in a matter of hours.

Five minutes after the call another man called at the pensioner's home. When she opened the door, he barged past her and walked straight into her house.

However, when she protested, the intruder left.

She later saw both men loitering outside her home in the street.

Luckily, no money had been handed over and the pensioner immediately called the police.

One of the suspects in the attempted con is described as being white, between 20 and 30 years old, 6ft tall with short brown hair.

He was wearing a navy top, which was possibly a turtle neck, and navy trousers.

The other man who called is also white and aged between 20 and 30 years of age. He is about 5ft 8ins tall and also had short brown hair. He was also wearing a navy jumper.

Inspector Andy Port, from Enfield's south cluster policing team, said: "I would like to remind residents, especially the elderly, to always ask for identification before letting people into their homes."

Chris Bond, Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment and community safety, reiterated the police's advice.

He said: "Never let anyone inside your home if they call unexpectedly, until you are satisfied they are who they say they are and we recommend residents are vigilant about giving out personal details and think very carefully before buying goods or services on their doorstep."

Anyone with information about the attempted con, which happened on March 20, can contact Enfield CID on 101 or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111, quoting reference: 5206025/15

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Richard Power feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Enfield, Edmonton, Palmers Green, Winchmore Hill & Southgate areas and Richard is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Richard a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Fire crews battle farm blaze after barn goes up in smoke

By Joe Cooper

joe.cooper@nlhnews.co.uk

THIRTY-five pigs and seven dogs were led to safety after a blaze at a farm near Crews Hill.

Six fire engines and 35 firefighters and officers attended the barn fire at Sloemans Farm, in Whitewebbs Road.

Two barns containing 5,000 bales of hay were ablaze when crews from Enfield, Finchley, Edmonton and Hertfordshire arrived at 3.30pm on Wednesday last week.

A flat-bed lorry and two outbuildings were also affected.

The fire was under control by 7.30pm, but five engines were still at the farm on Thursday as firefighters continued to dampen down. The blaze is thought to have started by accident.

Two propane cylinders were also cooled after being caught in the fire.

Station manager Steve West said: "When they arrived, our firefighters were faced with two open-sided Dutch barns and a number of farm outbuildings which were alight.

"Thankfully, farm workers had managed to lead around 30 pigs and seven dogs to safety before we arrived. Our crews worked hard in hot and challenging conditions to get the fire under control."

Officers from the Environment Agency were also on the scene on Thursday to check that Cuffley Brook had not been affected by contaminated water.

Environment officer James Burton said: "We've seen no negative effects on the fish so far."

Barry Duke, licensee of the King and Tinker,

Disruption: The fire at Sloemans Farm (inset) resulted in Whitewebbs Road being closed in Whitewebbs Road, said trade at his pub had been hit due to the road's closure.

Fire hoses stretched for nearly a mile down to the nearest hydrant in Theobalds Park Road.

About 100 homes in the Theobalds Park Road area were affected by low water pressure when the fire brigade started tackling the blaze. A Thames Water spokeswoman said: "Residents may have noticed low water pressure as the fire service tackled an incident nearby. Water pressures were back to normal by 6am on Thursday."

Home sweet home: Stables at Gillian's Riding School

Why youngsters have jumped at the chance to work with ponies...

Best hoof forward: Ruby Shaw, 10, on the obstacle course with Harvey

By Julia Gregory

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

MANY children dream of owning a pony – and some of them have been getting the chance to learn what it involves at a riding stables in Enfield.

They enjoyed the Own a Pony event at Gillian's Riding School at Brayside Farm, in Clay Hill.

Manager Hayley Dickens said that the children got involved in making sure the horses were fed, watered and exercised before they were given an opportunity to go riding, helping the youngsters to get an understanding of what is required to look after a horse.

"They do enjoy that and do enjoy getting stuck in," she said.

Later in the day, the children, who were accompanied by adults, competed in teams to hunt for card Easter eggs hanging down from trees in Whitewebbs woodland.

The riders were only allowed to walk or trot and there were points for the fastest team to find the eggs.

The riders then competed in an obstacle course, which included leading the horses around stepping stones and moving round bending poles with flags stuck in them.

Mrs Dickens said: "It's suitable for a complete novice as we can guide them and lead the pony."

"They are not worried about their actual riding ability as they focus on getting around the course."

"It's about building confidence and general awareness of what the horse needs on a day-to-day basis, so they don't look on them as just a form of transport."

She said the children built up a good rapport with the animals during the day and added: "All the children do have their favourite pony definitely."

The next Own a Pony events will run during the summer half-term holiday.

Store told to pay for mouse trouble

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

PACKETS of food on sale at an Enfield 99p store were found to have been urinated on and chewed by mice following a spot check by council environmental health officers after a complaint from a customer.

The owners of the store, in London Road, Enfield Town, had to pay a total of £8,000 in fines and costs after pleading guilty to breaching hygiene regulations.

Tottenham Magistrates' Court heard it was just two days before Christmas 2013 when a member of the public complained after spotting rodent-damaged biscuits on sale in the shop. Officers found packets of biscuits which had been gnawed by mice, a pack of Turkish delight with chew marks from a mouse on it and more packets of food which smelled of urine.

Mouse droppings were discovered under the shelves in the biscuit, pretzels, cake, cereal and crisp aisles and in the food storage area on the first floor of the building.

The court heard that remedial action taken by 99p Stores meant that a full clean and disinfect of the affected areas had been completed by Christmas Eve and no further sign of mouse infestation had been found.

Chris Bond, Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment and community safety, said: "These hygiene failings posed a serious risk to the health of the general public and we had no option other than to prosecute for what were significant failings to control an infestation of mice."

"While I'm pleased that the company took swift action to address the problems we identified, I find it difficult to understand why a national retailer would allow urine-stained packets of food to be sold to customers in the run-up to Christmas."

"It is completely unacceptable."

Supermarkets lose alcohol licences

TWO supermarkets have been stripped of their licences to sell alcohol following a decision by Enfield Council's licensing sub-committee.

Sheelpa Express, in Ordnance Road, Enfield Lock, had its licence revoked after Revenue and Customs officers, together with trading standards officers, seized imported cigarettes and tobacco on which no duty had been paid.

The shop owner had been warned he could lose his licence after it had been reviewed three times previously and he had been caught selling illicit alcohol.

RK supermarket, in Empire Parade, Edmonton, lost its licence after alcohol and tobacco on which no excise had been paid was found on the premises three times in four months.

Chris Bond, Enfield Council's cabinet member for environment and community safety, said: "These traders have shown a cavalier disregard for the law and deserved no less than to have their licences revoked."

"We expect businesses to behave lawfully and we'll take appropriate action against those that choose not to."

Concerned: Joan Ryan, Labour's candidate in Enfield North

Candidates clash over Chase Farm

By Julia Gregory

newsdesk@nlhnews.co.uk

ENFIELD North Labour candidate in the general election Joan Ryan is calling for action to tackle what she describes as an "emerging accident and emergency crisis" following publication of the latest casualty waiting times.

She said the closure of the A&E department at Chase Farm Hospital, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, in 2013 had put pressure on other hospitals.

Government figures released this month saw the number of patients waiting for more than four hours to be admitted at North Middlesex University Hospital, in Sterling Way, Edmonton, in the last week of March rise from 31 in 2014 to 126 this year.

Ms Ryan said: "Local A&E departments have been placed under greater pressure both by the Tories' decision to axe the A&E unit at Chase Farm and the fact that under the Tory-led government it is getting harder for people to see their GP."

Conservative candidate Nick de Bois said: "Joan Ryan's constant scaremongering isn't convincing anyone. Her continuing claims that Chase Farm Hospital will close – when even Labour-run Enfield Council has approved the £270million re-build and investment programme – shows that she has nothing to offer residents.

"I wish she would get behind the new hospital and champion the future of Chase Farm rather than raise the prospect of a Labour government putting this investment at risk."

The other candidates in Enfield North are Yemi Awolola (Christian Peoples Alliance), Deborah Cairns (UKIP), David Flint (Green), Cara Jenkinson (Liberal Democrat) and Joe Simpson (Trade Unionist and Socialist Coalition).

Decisions, decisions...

RESIDENTS who did not register by Monday will be left without a vote in the general election.

On Friday, three days before the deadline for registration, we spoke to people in Church Street, Enfield Town, against a backdrop of the French market, to get a flavour of whether those out shopping, walking and working in the town would be voting come May 7.

Out of the those who spoke to us about the general election all had registered to vote and were on the electoral roll. They told us about why they were voting and most said for whom they would be voting.

Tamsin Irwin, from Enfield: "If you don't vote, you have no say in society. "When I cast my vote, I will be thinking of the bigger picture – I believe coalitions will be the future of government in this country. "I don't want to say who I will be voting for – that's a private matter really – but I definitely will use my vote."

Angela Davidson, 31, from Enfield: "You have to vote so you can have a say in where the country is going. All the decisions that the government makes affect us – whether it's jobs, benefits, the amount of money the council has. "Under the Conservatives my EMA was cut and my job in London Underground is under threat, I have a child and the Conservatives have done nothing to help with childcare. I will be voting Labour."

Jackie Hobbs, 58, from Enfield: "I have registered to vote and I'm voting because if you don't vote you have no say in what goes on. "You can't complain about the government if you haven't made the effort to have your say. But to be honest the way they (the politicians) are all behaving at the moment – there seems to be very little to chose between them. "I am voting for UKIP. I'm done with the Conservatives – they have gone way off – they are offering nothing for working people. And after all we might have cars, homes and be able to afford holidays – but at heart we are still working-class people."

Andy Coleman, 66, from Barnet: "If you don't vote, you don't get the government you want. "Mind you, as the old saying goes – it doesn't matter who you vote for, the government always gets in. "I don't want there to be a coalition and I don't want that lady from up north – Nicola Sturgeon – to have such power in the government so I will be voting Conservative."

George Kapetanios, 40, from Barnet: "I think it's important to have a say in who runs the country. To be honest, I think Cameron has done a good job. I will be voting for him again – he has been a good prime minister."

EDUCATION FOR LIFE

Advertisement Feature "Freedom to Flourish" opportunities at Palmers Green High School

From 3-year olds joining the Alice Nursery to Seniors excitedly making plans for Sixth Form, our girls are supported and challenged throughout their school careers. Opportunities abound within this small school because our girls can access experiences normally reserved for 'the chosen few'.

An atmosphere of calm excitement and purposeful engagement is apparent from early days in the Alice Nursery, where girls flourish as they discover the world around them through a variety of carefully planned activities linked to a weekly theme.

Lower School classes benefit hugely from the encouragement and expertise of their class teachers and teaching assistants. Favourable teaching group sizes, light and airy classrooms and access to senior school facilities all lead to an inspirational learning environment. This is enriched by specialist teaching in Art, Design & Technology, Drama, French, German, Latin, Music, PE and Russian – frequently in half class groups.

In Senior School small class sizes (an average of only 10 at GCSE) along with a broad range of extra-curricular activities enriches the girls' experience. New Year 7s enjoy a three-day residential PGL trip and friendships are formed quickly and easily. Excellent teamwork helped our Year 10 pupils to win the 2014 London Schools Hydrogen Challenge, in a world record-breaking time. In 2014 GCSE candidates attainment at A*/A was 75%, placing them amongst the top performers in the country.

Ranked 1st in The Sunday Times league table for Small Schools for the last five years, parents can be confident that Palmers Green High School girls attain excellent results in relation to their abilities and aptitudes. Here every girl is known as an individual and encouraged to contribute fully in all areas of school life, where a plethora of opportunities ensures that our girls have freedom to flourish.

'Psychic' Tony aims to offer a happy medium

By Russ Lawrence

russ.lawrence@nlhnews.co.uk

THE phenomenal popularity of TV shows featuring spiritual mediums guarantees a stampede for tickets whenever the public gets the chance to see them – and the “psychic powers” they claim to possess – in the flesh.

One of the leading exponents is Tony Stockwell, who is bringing his touring show An Evening of Psychic Mediumship to Millfield Theatre, in Silver Street, Edmonton, next Wednesday evening.

Spiritualism and the assertion that someone can receive messages from beyond the grave evoke huge controversy, which is why the show's publicity blurb points out that new laws require shows featuring mediumship to carry the disclaimer “for entertainment purposes only”.

Sceptics and non-believers insist there is no scientific basis to support psychics' claims of an after-life, warning that vulnerable and gullible people are being duped.

But Walthamstow-born father-of-two Tony says he knew from an early age he had a special gift enabling him to communicate with the dead.

As in the supernatural blockbuster The Sixth Sense, he says he was aware of seeing “people” before him whom others could not see, or of hearing his name called by someone unseen.

When he was older, he joined a spiritualist church and has developed his “skills” delivering to bereaved relatives and friends through readings and stage shows messages of comfort from their dearly-departed.

In response to the sceptics and cynics, Tony says: “There are those who are sceptical and those with an open mind.

“For hardened sceptics, though no proof will ever be enough. I have no problem with that as that's their path in life and this is mine, but I have the pleasure in knowing they will one day find out the truth about life after death.”

Voices from beyond?: Tony Stockwell, above and right, says he has a special gift enabling him to communicate with the dead and deliver messages to the bereaved

AVENGERS: AGE OF ULTRON
(12A, 141 mins)

WITH the Harry Potter and Twilight series a distant memory, Peter Jackson's forays into Middle Earth at an end and The Hunger Games poised for a dramatic conclusion this Christmas, the number of blockbuster franchises capable of setting the box office alight is dwindling.

As the phenomenal success of Guardians Of The Galaxy last year attests, our appetite for films based on the Marvel Comics universe of superheroes shows no signs of abating, however, and this sequel to the 2012 action adventure Avengers Assemble is gearing up for the biggest opening weekend of all time.

Director Joss Whedon is back at the helm with all the original cast for a spectacular reunion that will ultimately tear the superhero team apart and pit two great patriots against one another. Tony Stark (Robert Downey Jr) hopes to jumpstart world peace using a dormant artificial intelligence programme, but he unwittingly unleashes the villainous Ultron (voiced by James Spader).

Nick Fury (Samuel L Jackson) calls together his superhero team of Iron Man, Captain America (Chris Evans), Thor (Chris Hemsworth), The Incredible Hulk (Mark Ruffalo), Black Widow (Scarlett Johansson) and Hawkeye (Jeremy Renner) to protect mankind from annihilation, testing the fragile bonds of trust between the team members in the process.

Uneasy alliances are forged and the Avengers cross paths with mysterious and powerful siblings Wanda (Elizabeth Olsen) and Pietro Maximoff (Aaron Taylor-Johnson), aka Scarlet Witch and Quicksilver, who have been subjected to secret experiments by Hydra.

The team also encounters an old friend in his new form as Vision (Paul Bettany) while Thor's duplicitous half-brother Loki

BLACK WIDOW: Scarlett Johansson

(Tom Hiddleston) continues to pull strings by adopting the appearance of other characters for his own nefarious means.

Marvel films have a habit of holding back an additional scene for the end credit to whip fans into a frenzy. Unconfirmed reports and internet gossip suggest that a certain web-slinging hero could make a brief appearance to announce his revival in this colourful world of heroes and villains. Keep your eyes peeled.

The emotional fallout from Whedon's eagerly anticipated film should provide a neat set-up for the 2016 blockbuster Captain America: Civil War, which pits Steve Evans against Tony Stark and forces the other members of the Avengers to take sides against the governments of the world, who want to pass an act that will regulate all superhuman activity.

Released: April 23

RANGE HOMES

SALES & LETTINGS LTD

Range Homes have been established in Palmers Green since 2008, we have a great team of staff with a combined experience of over 30 years all specialising in residential sales and lettings ensuring you receive a professional and quality service.

We specialise in both sales and lettings and currently are offering a fantastic sales fee 0.75%+vat on ALL sales, even if you are with multiple agents we will still only charge 0.75%+vat on your sales fee. Please contact our office for further details.

Hard work and dedication is our key to running a successful business. We have always had this work ethic to go with our slogan "always putting our clients first". We will always go the extra mile to exceed the expectations of our landlords and vendors. We have an in-house building & maintenance team therefore we offer our landlords the option to have their property fully refurbished, fitting new kitchens, bathrooms and re wiring, which increases their rental income and property value. We feel it's important to maximize the capital from your assets therefore are always willing to help make this possible.

Over the last 18 months we've seen the property market show signs of positive growth with the demand for sales peaking in the first quarter of 2014, this has subsequently stabilised although our vendors are still achieving fantastic prices as we have a catalogue of quality buyers and investors. Lettings are always in high demand and we have successfully achieved rental increases of up to 10-15% for our landlords.

We have recently launched a fantastic new website www.rangehomes.co.uk where you can find out more about us as a company and our team. Our aim is to keep growing and maintaining our great relationship with landlords and vendors in the local and surrounding areas, so please give us a call for an informal chat or if you have any questions we'd love to hear from you. 020-8882-6655

A6 is an excellent all-rounder

By Matt Joy

It feels like the A6 has been around since Moses, but there are specific updates for this year. Technophiles will like the new LED headlight options, including the fantastic Matrix LED units that blank off individual LEDs to maintain main beam illumination while avoiding dazzling other drivers.

Amazingly, the windscreen and front side windows are now double glazed as standard. There's also a smoothly-integrated new infotainment system with more features and, of course, engine revisions that take the most economical A6 up to 67.3mpg and 109g/km – but only in the right specification.

Not much has changed outwardly unless you care to break out your electron microscope, but versions with LED headlights, like the S line car, don't need fog lights any more. The function is built into the complex LED units, so you won't see pointless extra lamps on the front.

The A6 has a deservedly superb image, whether it's as a long-legged company car or as a carry-all premium family bus. It's well-known for its refinement, materials quality and comfort – and all three are borne out with this 2015 update. The Avant estate model is obviously the bigger of the two chief body styles, packing enough space for more or less anything you're likely to need to carry. With the rear seats folded down, there are van-like proportions to play with, but the normal boot area alone is enough for pushchairs, big suitcases or smaller pieces of furniture.

A nice touch is a cupholder design that grips containers firmly and stops them tilting. Mechanically speaking, the car is also a great fit for the S tronic automatic gearbox, which helps waft the A6 along with dignity and quiet restraint. It's supremely welcome in traffic, too, removing the strain often felt by your left leg.

A butter-smooth drivetrain is perfect for the A6. It hums along so creamily it's hard to believe that just a decade ago Audi was still using the clattery old TDI PD engines. The latest common-rail 2.0-litre diesel is a marvellous thing, if lacking a little in outright punch.

The ride is comfy enough, despite 18-inch wheels, and you immediately notice how big and stable it feels both in a straight line and through corners, where it grips like a barnacle to a boat. Intelligent design means that the gearbox holds lower gears when going downhill, for example, to help with engine braking.

On the downside, the steering is rather elastic-feeling and doesn't have any real sense of connection to the front wheels. The harder you drive along winding roads, the worse it seems to get. The silver lining is that it's light and responsive at low speeds, making car parks lighter work than they might be, or you could just let the car park itself. You just need to select Drive and Reverse when the car tells you. S line trim, the Avant body style and the S tronic gearbox bump this car's price up a few thousand pounds, but by A6 standards, it's not that pricey at all. It might just be a sweet spot in the range, too, with maximum practicality, enough comfort and luxury and low running costs. We managed just short of 52mpg on a 40-minute loop of mixed roads. Not bad for a big ol' barge like the A6.

This is such an effective all-rounder that many different types of people might buy it, for overlapping reasons. Families who need space and technology and business users who want comfort and prestige are the primary groups likely to make a bee-line straight for the Ultra TDI version. And they'd be wise to do so.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968 and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. Classified Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed "Trade Advertisers", and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, or place of the advertisement or by including words such as "trade", "dealer", "agent", "wholesaler", "(T)" etc. in the advertisement.
4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
- (a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
- (b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
- (c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reason the advertiser will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
9. All gross advertising rates (except classified image and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
- (1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
- (2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
15. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
16. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
17. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
18. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
19. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belongs to the Publishers. Advertisers must not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.

Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies. Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.

Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.

Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.

Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.

Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

KANE PLEASED AT GOAL MILESTONE

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

HARRY KANE revealed his pride after becoming the first Tottenham Hotspur player to score 30 goals in a season for more than 20 years.

The 21-year-old striker reached the milestone when netting the final goal in a 3-1 victory at Newcastle United on Sunday which saw Spurs climb back up into sixth place in the Premier League table.

Kane is the first Spurs player to score 30 goals in a season since Gary Lineker in 1992, and he hopes that he can add to his tally in the rest of the campaign.

"I'm very proud but there are still five games left so hopefully I can get a few more goals and it doesn't stop here," he said. "It's great to reach that milestone."

"It felt like I was on 29 for ages and to be able to get to 30 now, and 20 in the league, is special – and to win the game is even better. Obviously I'm delighted with the 30 goals but the most important thing is that we keep winning games."

"The season doesn't finish here though. There are five more games left and I'll be trying to get on the scoresheet in as many of them as possible."

"I think that we deserved the win. We played very well. We had two disappointing performances in the last couple of weeks and we wanted to put it right. Credit to the lads because we deserved the three points."

And head coach Mauricio Pochettino firmly believes that Kane will only continue to improve over the next few seasons.

"He has big potential," he said. "He is young and this is his first full season in the first team. We need to push him to try to improve his level because he has the potential to improve."

"To get to 30 goals is a fantastic achievement and I congratulate him. He deserves this moment because he has worked a lot. It's an historic thing."

"He's happy in the changing room and all his team-mates are happy. I think all our supporters and the club are happy at his achievement."

Pochettino was also satisfied with Tottenham's overall display on Sunday as they managed to put successive poor performances against Burnley and Aston Villa behind them.

"It was a very important win to recover our good feeling after the last two games," he said. "We showed we're still alive and we played well."

"We conceded another early goal in the second half but we were brave and we played our best football after they scored. Maybe it was difficult in the mind to concede another early goal against Newcastle but we responded well and I'm pleased."

Meanwhile, Dele Alli has been named the Football League's young player of the year.

The 19-year-old midfielder signed for Spurs from MK Dons in January but was immediately loaned back to his former club for the remainder of the season.

Alli, who has scored 15 goals during the current campaign, picked up the prize at Sunday night's Football League Awards ceremony in London.

Brilliant Borough are crowned champions

A THRILLING 3-2 victory at home to Bowers and Pitsea on Saturday saw Haringey Borough crowned champions of the Essex Senior League.

Bowers were the only side who could have pipped Borough to the title and they made the brighter start to the match, having a goal disallowed for offside and seeing a Lewis Manor penalty superbly saved by home keeper Ashley Harris.

And the visitors eventually got the goal they deserved as they opened the scoring on 17 minutes when Luke Wilson met a corner from the right just beyond the far post and smashed the ball into the net.

With Borough still struggling to get their game together, they rarely looked like getting back on level terms prior to the interval, but they were a transformed side in the second half as they took full advantage of having the wind in their favour.

The equaliser arrived on 57 minutes when Dean Fenton blasted a 25-yard free-kick from a central free-kick low through the wall and into the corner of the net.

Borough only needed a point to seal the title, but they fell behind again with 15 minutes remaining when a clumsy tackle in the box gifted Bowers another penalty and Manor made no mistake on this occasion.

The hosts poured forward in the search for a crucial equaliser and it arrived in unusual circumstances in the 87th minute as Macauley White scored his first goal for the club direct from a corner from the left which dropped just inside the far post.

And Borough were able to begin their celebrations in earnest when they went ahead in spectacular fashion in the first minute of stoppage time, Leroy Griffiths hooking the ball over the keeper and into the net from some 40 yards out on the right touchline.

There was still time for Bowers to hit the bar and for Harris to make another fine save, but Borough held firm as their triumph was confirmed.

Borough will now be promoted to step four of non-league football next season, with Ryman League Division One North their most likely destination.

Meanwhile, Borough's hopes of winning the Gordon Brasted Memorial Trophy came to an end on Thursday when a much-changed side was beaten 1-0 at Clapton in the semi-finals, with Fahad Nyanja scoring the only goal on 15 minutes.

Haringey Borough host Takeley tomorrow (7.45pm) before rounding off their triumphant league campaign at home to Tower Hamlets on Saturday (3pm).

Skolars slump to a heavy defeat

THE London Skolars crashed to a 36-10 defeat at home to the University of Gloucestershire All Golds in rugby league's Kingstone Press Championship One on Saturday.

The Skolars had been hoping to build on securing their first win of the season in their previous outing, but they instead produced an error-strewn display which saw them concede seven tries in a scrappy encounter.

The game started badly for the hosts as the All Gold created a large gap down the left for Callum Mulkeen to claim the opening try inside two minutes.

It was not until the 14th minute that the Skolars were able to get into the visitors' half for the first time and it came as little surprise when they fell further behind through another Mulkeen try on 19 minutes.

The All Golds' impressive offloading game was proving to be a constant menace and a fine break from Steve Parry resulted in Phil Cowburn scoring their third try while Matt Bradley – who endured a difficult spell with the Skolars last season – also touched down as the first half ended with the visitors 20-0 ahead.

The second half saw the Skolars come into the game more and Jimmy Morgan got them on the scoresheet by touching down in the corner before Jon Wallace forced his way over the line. Sam Druce's conversion reduced their deficit to just ten points.

However, the hosts' hopes of a comeback proved to be shortlived as Jamie Murphy put the All Golds back in control by scoring out wide.

Jamie Crowther barged through a tiring defence to claim the visitors' sixth try before Courtney Davies rounded off the scoring by touching down under the posts.

The match saw talismanic skipper Dave Williams making his first league appearance of the season for the Skolars after returning from a loan spell with the London Broncos.
